

TRANSPORT HISTORY GROUP VISIT to Berkshire Aviation Museum on Wednesday 27 February

A small museum to start our year, but one which is packed with exhibits and information. It is crammed with aircraft, and there are numerous display cabinets which explain the history of aviation in this area. Miles and Handley Page built aircraft here, and this is where Douglas Bader had the crash in which he lost his legs. Staff are mostly from the aviation world, and are interesting to talk to. Remember to dress warmly!

Travel arrangements

As this museum is only 23 miles away, we will travel by car. We will meet at 12noon for lunch at the Waterside pub, before going on to the Museum arriving between 1.30pm and 2pm. Volunteers are asked to provide transport. There is free parking at the Museum. Directions attached.

Costs

Entry to the Museum for Senior citizens costs £2.50.

Catering

Pub lunch (see above). Drinks and snacks are available at the Museum.

Please complete the slip below or let me know by email.
